1. The new shipyard at Dominance on Korcula Island was named Vicko Krstulovic on 1 January 1950. The management and technical staff remained unchanged, but in January the number of workers was increased by 200, including 50 specialists.
2. In mid-January nine "T-C" motor torpedo boats were under construction. Two of these were nearing completion and the other seven were due for completion within two to three months. The engines for all nine of the boats had been sent from Rijeka. There were also seven coastal patrol craft under construction for the Naval KNOJ, which were due for completion within one or two months.
3. Work on the enlargement of the shipyard was intensified in February, 1950.
4. The old shipyard has not yet been closed and is still carrying out repair work. Reportedly, it will continue to carry out repairs whereas the new shipyard will undertake new construction.
5. The KNOJ unit on the island has been considerably increased and is reported to number 1,000. The unit is under the command of a Colonel. The headquarters, located in the barracks on the left-hand side of the entrance to the shipyard, includes a Lieutenant Colonel, two Majors and approximately twenty-five officers of lower rank, as well as a number of non-commissioned officers.
